

Genexis celebrates EcoVadis gold medal - recognition of sustainability excellence.

We are thrilled to announce yet another significant recognition of sustainability achievements: the Gold Medal from EcoVadis, a renowned authority on sustainability assessment. This recognition is a testament to Genexis' commitment to sustainability and its vision for a greener, more conscious world.

Olivier van Duuren, Genexis Sustainability Officer: "Just a year ago, we worked with EcoVadis for the first time, and proudly received a Silver Medal. Today, we hold a prestigious Gold Medal that signifies our commitment and substantial contribution toward a sustainable future. Compared to other companies in our industry, we are in the top 4%. And compared to all companies rated we are in the top 6% "

Highlights from the EcoVadis assessment, comparing 2022 to 2023:

Continuous Improvement: Genexis has improved its overall score by 25% through the successful implementation of additional policies and measures dedicated to enhancing sustainability practices.

Enhanced Transparency: The publication of additional sustainability reporting demonstrates Genexis' commitment to transparency and accountability.

Outstanding Ethical Practices: Exceptional commitment to ethical business conduct with no records in third-party risk and compliance databases.

Our Ongoing Commitment to Sustainability

Genexis understands that our sustainability journey is far from complete. In an era marked by growing environmental and social challenges, we acknowledge the strong relationship between businesses, the environment, and society. As a result, we conduct business in a responsible manner, striving to protect the environment and create a better world for future generations.
