

HomeRun

Enrich the connectivity experience

HomeRun is an advanced suite of embedded services designed to enhance performance, stability, and security for XGS-PON ONTs and residential gateways. By integrating intelligent network management and user-friendly applications, HomeRun empowers operators to deliver higher service quality, reduce operational costs, and improve customer satisfaction.

Elevate fiber and Wi-Fi performance, security & user experience

HomeRun is built on three core elements:

Enhanced customer experience

Experience low latency, reduced lag, minimized jitter, and optimized Wi-Fi coverage. Enjoy seamless connectivity with bandwidth prioritization, congestion control, and cybersecurity features to protect your home with parental controls.

Lower operational costs

Reduce support tickets with self-service, automation, and proactive issue resolution. Achieve fast first-time fixes with performance analysis, hands-on tools, and a scalable solution that integrates seamlessly across devices and IT systems.

Empower the end-user

Easily set up, manage, and optimize your home Wi-Fi with a user-friendly step-by-step guide. Gain full network visibility, monitor performance in real time, and enhance security with parental controls and secure access settings.

Key benefits

- Higher service quality – Proactive performance monitoring and real-time issue mitigation
- Lower operational costs – Reduce support calls and truck rolls with intelligent automation
- Empowered end-users – Self-service apps for seamless control over home connectivity
- Enhanced security – Premium security features embedded directly into the device
- Future-proof – Scalable architecture to support evolving operator needs

HomeRun transforms Home connectivity equipment into a service-led, future-proof solutions, allowing operators to incorporate advanced connectivity features. By combining cloud intelligence, embedded security, and user-centric applications, HomeRun delivers a next-generation fiber and Wi-Fi experience that minimizes costs and maximizes customer satisfaction.

Interested?

Experience the difference! Let's set up your demo today!

www.genexis.eu

Bringing the World to Everyone's Home

